

after the 13 transformed back from bee swarms into mostly human shapes, some started to consciously metamorph single parts of their body with different animal and plant characteristics behaviour... perma and nilai modelling themselves in concerto with others too building small groups of 2 to 4 nilai formed her left arm into a swarm of butterflies with a human hand what flew on its own with batwings, her other arm being bees and the hand human too flying with 20 cm diameter butterfly wings... her torso was partly human partly fox fur covered with her legs coming from the chameleon side mixed with tree properties her hair being brown sea algae perma drew herself hairs like banana rasta and her skin was coconutbuttery, the arms and hands she did same like nilai with the legs being more flowerlike with reptile characteristics and her vagina being a wet fig human flesh symbiosis these combinations of multiple species at the same time in one body did inspire several who watched live on the net to paint them what resulted in an other wave of sculpturists and theater creatives to improvise on the theme bringing in their favorite multispecies combinations how got fox fur growing abilities into the cell... that was the achievement of nandofer ava and rumu too after their astonishing unexpected but highly appreciated merge with the bee community in a meadow outside of the rasip city the three dancers went to walk in a nearby forest where they picked some wild berries and mushrooms it was there they found an injured fox who was kind of sensing their extraordinary state of being.. multispeciesly merged multilife beings ... so the fox barked from under its earthhole hiding... ava intuitively new what to do, she peed in front of the fox and he did lick her pee from the ground she was sitting beside the fox to hold the palm of her hand over the female fox body with the hand moving automaticly over to the wounded area on her left stomach side rumu and nandofer too were sitting beside ava to place their hands lightly on her shoulders as to support her in transmitting healing energy to the fox.... after several minutes when ava felt great hit and pulsations flowing trough her the foxes wound what was not deep but widely spread... perhaps she had a fight with an other fox ... ava noticed the wounds closing and she lay her hand on to the space where it was bloody cut just moments ago... she caressed the vixen and felt at this touch her own body taking up the fur and fox skin essence knowledge abilities... nandofer too as well as rumu felt the thank you of the wixen... she and her global fox tribe have checked them out for good and given part of their knowledge to the human species via ava the brown sea algae hairs was an effort of ascende who was enjoying on his way from nacary islands to rasip some good quality hours of merging with the brown large sea algae... also perma meditated with him in the brown sea algae underwater forests at the shores of nafrec the ability to mix human chameleon tree skin with flower building build instructions ... came probably together with the bee upgrade the fig was a fruit ascende and perma had found to be quite sexually stimulating on the nacary islands to meditate shapeshift in their fruity flesh softness joho and mirael as well as mansulei were quite happy with their decision to be multilivers at the evening of the prototyping phase in such a researchers family setting prototype perhaps not too correct a title for this timeframe as it was more like the final phase of gathering multiple species cell samples as well as observing their interactions the pool was filled with life of various states of own intelligence and selfawareness but the group has yet not asked the sing groups of cells to build themselves into a human like being it did not seem to be needed, everyone was confident that the interest of the people who asked to deposit of 10000 given to joho s enterprise to have a meeting arranged with a somewhat artificially grown android or golem as one could call it... a symbiont... an organic body grown with a great variety of human animal and plant cell materials in urine, saliva, skin, hair, blood, sperm female ejaculation fluids, a artilife being potentially willing to be a companion to the human sponsor, an android talent so the group partied on while all the records got integrated into the data pool what would be given via loudspeakers and light projections into the grow tanks what have been built of clay and glass in the earth huts of south nacrima and the land of naci the humans who were willing to deposit 10000 have studied the terms and are well aware that they could not expect their eventual future companion as they would want them to be, they might have an indepth understanding of the human sponsors whole essence or complete soul spectrum so if they were wishing the companion like a human of the opposite sex athletic and sexually attractive the android talent would perhaps be a mix of plant features and animals and some other human attributes like instead of boy/girlfriend the human part would be a mother/father type of style or a human wishing rose flower like hairs might get an android growing orchids as skin toppings also how the artificial beings might go on eleminating the jobs the human sponsors performed... no certain route was either programmed nor to be projected as the android counciousness thanks to its roots in nature of human animals and plants...

this newly evolved shapeshifting beings could not be predicted in their possible logics what in itself was an exciting factor who fascinated the human sponsors, to be surprised on the behaviour of an android towards one s own features conditionings mind and heart patterns joho was now becoming interested to help provide thought and feeling observations towards the soon to start 10000 grow phase mansulei and him were now questioning the need for an airtight setting... eventually the air borne particles would be efdortlessly integrated and used as building blocks by the ursuppe from the rasip pool the plan was to equip each grow tank with initial rasip pool water of 1 to 10 litres ... the group would bath again together and ask the pool mind to help dividing itself in 10 000 equal portions of all cell assemblies... or perhaps the 10000 water botles from glass were totally individual with each bottle containing just this cell types what would be needed in respect of the future interaction with just this human

this being aided by the informations who why deposited 10000 were also projected into the pool with text lighth projectors so the pool mind read the contact request and accordingly divided itself when one of the group filled a bottle of rasip pool water this pool mind some months later would decide to inhabit the placenta of minai and leumi after they gave birth to a boy and a girl in the pool about 8 month after the 10000 were started to be grown... mirael... the setting of the earth hut, if the android or golem or biont would be grown in a 3 diameter bowl built with clay or glass or any combination of the materials... would have an influence and perhaps be given to the several thousands of uncles watching the cell assembly multiplications in the grow tanks... the uncles might spontaneously be guided to cover the grow tanks with a glass kuppel or filter the air in the hot otherwise eventually to burn incense style or and pray be happy dance sing ... all the human spectrum might be more of an important factor towards influencing the grow conditions

important would be a soft handling of the fluids and great connection of the uncles with their inner own self in order that they really listened to the collective mind in the earth hut... kind of fine mesh of individual goals what are trying to find their common smallest understandings of each other... and build on top of it a shape and behaviour pattern of this or that cell gathering patch floating on the dilluted rasip pool water

the mesh would build itself according to one the info in the pool second the info of the uncles being in the room so the growers attention would be of a contributing factor to the success of the biont development
